The Erasmus + Social Cooperative Contest for Secondary Schools, (ScoopConSS) project officially started in March 2020. Within a framework of this project, a consortium of six partner institutions will work together focusing on the concept of Cooperative business education in Secondary Schools.

THE PROJECT

Social Cooperative Contest for Secondary Schools (SCoopConSS) will pilot an innovative and engaging methodology to introduce and enhance cooperative business education in secondary schools, starting from topic-related teachers who will involve colleagues from other disciplines and students in the simulated establishment of a social cooperative focused on one or more of the 17 UN SDGs (Sustainable Development Goals). ScoopConSS, is funded with the financial support of the Programme of the European Commission

SCoopConSS RESEARCH

SCoopConSS research is out!

In order to develop an innovative and engaging methodology to introduce and enhance cooperative business education in secondary schools, project consortium is gathering relevant data and experiences from teachers in VET and managers of social cooperatives or social enterprises. According to the research results, we will develop and pilot educational methodology, consisting of online training for teachers, practical work for students and teachers in social cooperatives/enterprises and EU contest in developing business idea for social cooperative/enterprise.

If you are a teacher and want to build your teaching activities with social cooperative business model or a member of social cooperative/enterprise and want to share social cooperative values among youth enroll in the research and investigate more about the SCoopConSS project.

FIRST ONLINE MEETING

The First Online Meeting (FOM) took place on 11 March 2020 via Skype due to COVID 19.

The partners presented their institutions and went through the most important points of the project: the objectives, working packages, target-groups, key results, multiplier events, project management, implementation, dissemination and exploitation activities, quality assurance, monitoring and evaluation of the project. The most critical decisions were made at this meeting to allow the development of the first output according to a timetable agreed by the participants. It was a very important moment for the beginning of the project, because it allowed the partners to work close together. Nonetheless it wasn't a presence face to face Kick Off Meeting it was a face-to-face FOM at the distance of a monitor 😊

ABOUT THE PROJECT:

MAIN OBJECTIVE

The main objective of the SCoopConSS project is to build a Community of Practice for European secondary school teachers interested in boosting their teaching practice by using different entrepreneurial methods based on the cooperative principles of self-help, self-responsibility, democracy, equality, equity and solidarity.

MAIN ACTIVITIES

1. desk research and cross-checked analysis of successful practices in youth entrepreneurship training and education schemes (stabilize knowledge).
2. national and international coaching circles with business, marketing and administrative secondary school teachers for the participated design of a training programme aimed at enhancing their competences on cooperative business, cooperative and project based teaching methods, multidisciplinary and open schooling approaches (promote innovative teaching methods).
3. development, piloting and revision of a blended training course to support teachers in mentoring their students for the participation at the first edition of the EU Scoop! Contest, a Social Cooperative Simulation Contest to be scaled-up at EU level (develop skills).

MAIN OUTCOMES

1. better understanding of existing trainings tools on teaching entrepreneurship.
2. modernization/adaptation of the existing curricula to create specific tools for social business teaching.
3. implementation of a blended-training course on cooperative business.
4. teaching tools experimentation and students mentoring.
